

Visit Our Synagogues

“How goodly are your tents of Jacob”

Num. 24:5

General Description

- ❧ All of the congregations listed here welcome visitors. If this is your first time worshiping at a synagogue, come expecting to learn and enjoy the experience. Fully understanding and appreciating the prayers and rituals requires patience and study. There will be people to guide you. Each of these synagogues uses a traditional prayer book and follows the normal Jewish liturgy. However, what makes us unique are the customs, songs, and modes of spiritual expression that derive from our African heritage.
- ❧ Guests should arrive properly attired in suits, dresses, or appropriate garb. Men will be issued head coverings if needed. All New York synagogues maintain separate seating for men and women. Congregations in Philadelphia and Chicago invite women to the Torah. Reporters and researchers must obtain permission in advance; everyone else should come expecting to spend the entire morning. Most serve a reception following the Sabbath service.
